NEWSPAPER MEN TOLD THEY MUST SEND OUT TRUTHFUL
REPORTS OF THE TRIAL OR BE

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 12.—At the opening of the Schenck trial today the counsel for the defense demanded that Harvey Smith, a Pittsburgh newspaper man, be barred from the room because he had made untruthful and sensational reports regarding the testimony.

Smith made denials of the statement and the judge told the newspaper men their reports must be truthful, declaring that the author of future improper reports will be sent to jail.

The defense continued the cross examination of Mrs. Kline today. Lucy Wilson, a chauffeur, was called to the stand and corroborated previous testimony regarding automobile ride. Mrs. Schenck bought beer, wine and sandwiches for Phillips. Wilson testified the woman had told him she had intimate relations with Phillips.

ATLANTA BUILDING DESTROYED

GIRLS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH IN THE FLAMES

HUNDRED YOUNG WOMEN RESCUED FROM SECOND AND THIRD FLOORS OF THE BURNING BUILDING.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 17—A three-story building on West Mitchell street, occupied by the Empire Skin Manufacturing company and several smaller concerns, was destroyed by fire this morning. The loss will amount to $35,000.

The firemen fought valiantly to extinguish the flames and save the many employees at work in the structure. More than a hundred girls were rescued by ladders and jumping into nets from the second and third floors and a number of young women were overcome by smoke and had to be carried down the ladders by the fireman. All escaped alive however.

Max Fowler arrived Sunday from Frankfort, Ind., accompanied by his friend, Jack Montgomery, of Georgetown, Ky., who will spend the season here. Mr. Fowler is city editor of the Frankfort Time, of which his father is the proprietor, but for several eral seasons has been assisting Capt. L. E. Ellenwood aboard his excursion boats while here for the winter and will do so again this season. His parents are expected to arrive today to spend the season as usual at Daytona Beach.

ducts of the labor of others, or to hold in storage for use in later years when your strength fails. Put away a part of today's work—of tomorrow's work—of every day's work now, while you have earning capacity. Your stored labor will support you in comfort in a few years. Can you save a dollar every day? Put in the bank? Or 50 cents? Or 25 cents? If so, you ought to be doing it. It's a pity to waste all the work of these good years but many are doing it. Be wise and bank a part of the earnings each day. We not only accept your deposits, keep your money safely, and render ever-

SOME GOOD SUGGESTIONS FROM MAIN.

SPLENDID OPPORTUNITIES OFFERED CITY BY NATURE.

PEOPLE OF DAYTONA SHOULD ORGANIZE TO IMPROVE UPON CONDITIONS PLACED HERE BY NATURE.

The following communication to the Daily News from Rev. Arthur E. Main, dean of the Alfred (N. Y.) Theological Seminary, who has been visiting his son, Geo. A. Main, here for several weeks, offers some very good suggestions to the people of Daytona in particular and of Florida in general:

Editor Daily News.—As one who has been both a resident and a visitor in Florida, and is a debtor to its splendid climate, and who hopes to spend considerable time in the state in the years to come, I am interested in all that tends to promote individual or collective prosperity, and in whatever hinders public or private welfare.

Some who live in this Southland believe in it—others do not. Some who do not live here believe in it—others do not. The writer is willing to be counted among those who believe in its great possibilities in both material and spiritual things.

For these reasons permit me to offer a few suggestions to readers of the News.

1. That absolutely fair dealing in all relations, business, civic and religious, should be practiced among residents of the same locality; between the people of different sections, and between the state as a whole and the people whom we would like to have come here as residents or regular visitors.
- Any real good thing need not fear truth and fact. Any climate, land or enterprise that cannot stand the light but seeks the aid of unfairness and deceit better be ruled out of the list of desirable and worthy things. Florida is so good that it can well afford to have the truth about it to do and known—it can afford nothing else.
2. That the real interests of permanent residents and regular visitors, of Southerners and Northerners, are common. No part of the people can wisely seek its happiness, comfort and well-being at the expense of another part. In the long run it is found that the general good is also the good of railroad, steamship, hotel, real estate, merchant, cabman and of every personal interest. This is not merely good morals but sound sense and practical wisdom because in accord with nature's social laws.
3. That it would require no great expenditure of time, labor or money, but simply co-operation, to reduce to a minimum such nuisances as mosquitoes, filth, malaria, ugly sights in front or back yards, roofed or unroofed, and similar evils; and no great self-sacrifice to serve the public welfare, instead of one's own will and one's own ends. Nature has taught for ages that individuals, communities and commonwealths reap according to their sowing. If we sow to mosquitoes, fevers or discord we shall reap the same. This, too, is the teaching of experience.

4. That as there is here an exhaustless supply of good climate and a vast area of land, county and state officials, municipal officers, boards of trade, land owners, churches and residents generally should organize for the purpose of increasing immigration from the North and from other countries, and of so promoting immigration as to limit the newcomers as far as possible to people who are likely to make contented, useful and desirable citizens. One of the best advertisements for any section of our country is attractive physical, social, municipal, educational, industrial and church conditions of a golden rule coloring.

Nature has dealt very bountifully with Florida, and with no part of the state with a more liberal hand than Daytona, beautiful for situation. Still she leaves it with the people to determine the question of realizing in larger and larger measures its grand possibilities.

PICKERTS' SHOW PLEASES; AUDIENCE WELL SATISFIED.

FAIR SIZED AUDIENCE WITNESS OPENING PERFORMANCE ON WEEK'S STAND AT DAYTONA THEATER.

The Four Pickerts Dramatic company, composed of sixteen people, opened its week's engagement last night to a fair sized audience with the presentation of "His Majesty and the Maid."

The play was much enjoyed by all and was one of the best the Pickerts have ever put on the boards at Daytona, and if all the productions are of the class of last night they can rely upon a big week's business.

The character of Alicia, which was taken by Miss Blanche Pickert, was rather heavy, but she easily held her audience and is worthy of special mention. The vaudeville specialties introduced by the Four Pickerts are of the highest class.

Tonight they will introduce the society comedy play, "The Chauffeur," which is a laughing farce from start to finish and is sure to please any lover of comedy.

They are playing their usual popular prices and reserved seats can be secured at Hankins'.

The Newest Thing in Foot Rests.

The newest thing in foot rests is the sewing machine treadle. It is only a foot rest by the Westinghouse Sewing Machine Motor. A trial will show you that it's a foot rest you can't be without.

Have you examined one of these modern foot rests? If not, pay us a visit. Examine it carefully. How simple it is—how easy to operate—how fast it can sew with its aid. Think how much time you would otherwise spend sewing, will be saved you for pleasure. Last of all, consider that the rent it requires costs only a half a cent an hour.

NEW SMYRNA, FLORIDA

M. LEIDERSDORF
 Resident Agent
 Town and Country Property

NEW SMYRNA is situated fifteen miles south of Daytona and is an ideal spot reached from Daytona by a hard surface road winding through one of the most picturesque parts of Florida.

With its ancient ruins dating back to a time when the history of man runneth not, interlaced with wires of the modern telegraph and telephone, its miles of shell streets as hard and smooth as a floor and over-arched by hoary forest giants that grew in stately grandeur during the lapse of bygone centuries, New Smyrna is truly a place of romance and rest.

All nature here is very inviting to the tourist and pleasure-seeker. Here too is to be found the best fishing and hunting in the state of Florida.

The people are thrifty, the business men enterprising and all unite in extending the welcome hand of hospitality to strangers. There are five church edifices for white people and an equal number for the colored population; the town has an excellent high school, a splendid public library, and up-to-date business houses.

There are any number of pretty homes for the permanent population, which numbers close to 2,000, and some very fine winter residences. There are good hotels and boarding houses where you can find accommodations to meet your requirements.

Adjoining New Smyrna is as fine a section of vegetable land as can be found anywhere. This land has been divided into small farms which can be bought at reasonable prices. Some of the finest celery grown in the state is raised on this land. All other vegetables grow in abundance, and here, too, is the home of the famous Indian River oranges.

...the most extraordinary piece of symbolism known to have been used by the early Asiatics was a figure of a donkey's head used as a representative of the deity. There is no doubt whatever that the same emblem was once used among the Hittites, the Egyptians and one or two other nations as a symbol of their red god, Sut. The superstition of the yellow donkey of India, the story of the swift ass of eastern Asia and the ass of Dionysius and many other marvelous ass stories are all survivals of that curious form of religious worship the adoration of the ass' head.

They Both Knew.
 The fool said one day in the king's presence, "I am the king!" And the king laughed, for he knew that his fool was wrong.

A week later the king was angry because of an error he had committed and exclaimed, "I am a fool!" And the fool laughed, for he knew that his king was right.

KNOW HIS BUSINESS.
 This Parisian Beggar Realized the Value of New Shoes.
 Begging has long been a great art in Europe. By using subtle touches of misery and calculated effects of disease and dismemberment the beggar became a master of pathetic appeal. A delightful story of Dupre, the sculptor, is quoted by Hamilton W. Mabie in the Outlook.
 Looking out of his window in a hotel one bleak wintry morning in the good old times, Dupre saw an old beggar sitting barefooted on the stone steps below. His heart was moved with compassion, and he began to search for a pair of shoes. He found two pairs, one of them new.
 "Do not give the new pair away; you will need them yourself," urged his prudent wife.
 "No," said the sculptor, "I shall find the old pair more comfortable. Moreover, if I am to give anything away I am going to give the best I have."
 So he hurried downstairs and put the new shoes in the hands of the barefooted old man. The next morning the beggar sat on the steps as usual, and as usual, his feet were bare. Dupre

News Snapshots Of the Week

Governor Comer of Alabama, after reading Lord Byron's poem, "The Prisoner of Chillon," was so deeply impressed that he released 100 convicts. Arch Hoxsey succeeded in reaching the height of 11,374 feet in his aeroplane. Matthew McGrath, the New York policeman who shot George Walker, accusing him of burglary, is champion sixteen-pound hammer thrower of the world. Government agents may invade the private art galleries of J. Pierpont Morgan and confiscate art treasures. Captain Thomas Baldwin expects to fly around the world in about three years. The Northern Bank of New York and the Washington Savings bank closed their doors, and Joseph G. Robin, their controlling spirit, was arrested and took poison.

The FLY

It Will Crawl to the Top, but Will Fly Back to the Bottom.

A fly on a window pane will crawl to the top, fly back to the bottom and crawl up again. This order is seldom reversed—why no one knows. It is a record that a fly crawled up a window pane thirty-two times, returning each time a-wing.

Flies scratch for food with the sun behind them; the reason being that the rays reflect on the minute particles. A fly will pick grain and not miss a kernel.

Cats seldom lie with their feet to the sun. Usually they lie on the left side. Dogs lie with their fore paws to the sun.

A mouse will ignore a food supply sufficient for a meal and run great risks to nibble at a wholesale supply. It will hide at the source of food supply and not depart therefrom until actually disturbed. It isn't true that a mouse runs to its hole at the first alarm.

Find a harmless little snake the length of a lead pencil and provide a box for it in the house, visit it daily and at the end of three months it will crawl to you for food.

Goldfish usually swim around a globe to the right. They can be taught to take a fly out of the hand in six weeks' time. The presence of other fish in the globe is generally ignored by goldfish. Drop a piece of chip on the surface of the water and it will frighten a fish.

Sheep spend more time grazing than do cattle and horses. Sheep will eat for twelve hours out of twenty-four.—New York World.

FIGHTING NATURE.

What One Man's Patient Effort Wrought From a Desert in France.

In the southwest of France, between the rivers Adour and Garonne, are long stretches of pine woods, green and cool.

Where these pines now stand was a barren waste in the middle of the last century. Sun and wind vied with each other in making the land drier and dustier. Over the stormy bay of Biscay came winds that set up great sandstorms and sometimes buried whole villages. The whole region was one of hopelessness and despair. Fate was against it.

But finally there came a man who acknowledged fate only as something to be overcome. This man, one Bremondier, was an inspector of roads. He began fencing in the desert. He built a fence and behind it planted broom seeds. Behind the broom seeds he put seeds of the pine. The fence protected the broom seeds, and the broom grew. Then the broom in its turn afforded shelter to the delicate pine shoots.

Soon the pines spread, and their tough roots bound the sandy soil together. The first step was accomplished. Then canals were made to drain the wet parts and carry water to the dry.

Thus did one man by patient effort turn a dreary desert into a home for an industrious and healthy population. It was an instance of triumph over fate.—New York Tribune.

The Business of Life.

Life is a business we are all apt to mismanage, either living recklessly from day to day or suffering ourselves to be guiled out of our moments by the fantasies of custom. We should despise a man who gave as little activity and forethought to the conduct of any other business. But in this, which is the one thing of all others, since it contains them all, we cannot see the forest for the trees. One brief impression obliterates another. There is something stupefying in the recurrence of unimportant things, and it is only on rare provocations that we can rise to take an outlook beyond daily concerns, and comprehend the narrow limits and great possibilities of our existence.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Those Newspaper Yarns.

A worthy old dame of New England once invited her husband's attention to what seemed to her a curious item in the journal she was looking at. "Listen to this," said she, reading.

"The Mary H. Barker of Gloucester reports that she saw two whales, a cow and a calf, floating off Cape Cod the day before yesterday."

"Well, what about it?" asked the husband.

"Only this," replied his spouse. "I can understand about the two whales, but what beats me is how the cow and the calf got way out there."—Lippincott's.

ALL OF

So They Had to Tag Each of the Many Tom Hazards.

Perhaps no community more carefully and frequently set forth its erratic fancy than did the early settlers of Narragansett, R. I., of whom W. B. Weeden tells in "Early Rhode Island." There were so many of one name that the bearer must have a descriptive prefix lest he be lost in a concordant multitude. Mr. Updike cites thirty-two Tom Hazards living at one time and thus illustrates a few:

College Tom, because he had been at college. Bedford Tom was his son and lived at New Bedford. Barley Tom, because he boasted how much barley he raised from an acre; Virginia Tom, because he married a wife there; Little Neck Tom, from the farm of that name; Nailor Tom, the blacksmith; Fiddle Head Tom, an obvious resemblance; Pistol Tom, wounded by an explosion of that arm; Young Pistol Tom, his son; Short Stephen's Tom, the father law, against Long Stephen's Tom, the father tall; Tailor Tom needs no explanation.

The Georges were not so numerous, but they were distinguished as Bench Bird George, of little legs; Shoestring George, an opponent of buckles; Wig George, Dr. George and Governor George.

A LIFE FOR A LIFE.

Cheerful New Guinea Custom Which Causes Frequent Murders.

Everywhere in New Guinea the traveler is continually brought face to face with death, and the natives are devoid of the slightest pity or respect for the dead or dying, although after a death they will often wail and mourn for a considerable time.

Murder is an everyday occurrence, and nothing could be worse than the morals of the natives. In fact, they have none. They thieve and lie with a persistence and cunning which are surprising.

The Papuans have a cheerful custom which demands a life for a life. Should any one die at the first opportunity they kill some one—they are not very particular whom—to make up for it. "While we were at Humboldt bay," says Professor Pratt in the Wide World Magazine, "a Malay died of dropsy. He was the first Malay who had ever come to that part, and the Papuans greatly respected him.

"Very well," they said, "we must shoot a Malay with our bows and arrows to pay for his death." And sooner or later some innocent person would be killed to square the account, when everybody—except, presumably, the victim's friends—would be satisfied."

A Disguised Toast.

At one time the officers under Lord Howe refused to drink his health at their mess, for, though a splendid admiral, he was not popular in the navy on account of a certain shyness and want of tact with those about him. The chaplain, who was a protegee of his lordship, was mortified at this and determined that the officers should drink to Lord Howe. When called upon for a toast one day he said, "Well, gentlemen, I can think of nothing better at this moment than to ask you to drink the first two words of the Third Psalm, for a Scriptural toast for once may be taken from one of my cloth." The toast was drunk. Not one of the officers indicated by word or look that he was ignorant of the words alluded to. On referring to the Bible it was found that the Third Psalm begins, "Lord, how are they increased?"

Worth Her Weight in Butter.

Curious customs still prevail with regard to marriage. In some parts of Uganda the custom is to offer six needles and a pack of India rubber for a wife. Some of the Kaffirs sacrifice oxen. The Tartars of Turkestan give the weight of the prospective wife in butter. In Kamchatka the price varies from one to ten reindeer. Some savages require a certain amount of labor. Among the aborigines it is said the current rate for a wife is a box of matches, which prompted a Paris contemporary to speculate whether one of the French government boxes would be accepted.

ELECTRIC

Their Effect in the First Theaters in Which They Were Used.

The first theater in the world to use incandescent lamps was the Academy of Music, on Halstead street, Chicago, the plant being installed by the Western Edison Light company. The theater was wired for 150 sixteen candle power lamps. The lighting was confined to the auditorium. No electric lights were used on the stage, as dimmers had not been thought of at that time. On the opening night, after the new lights were installed, the actors struck, claiming that it was impossible to make up by gaslight and play their parts under the glare of the electric lights. It was with difficulty that they were persuaded to proceed with the second act.

The first theater to be completely lighted with incandescent lamps was the old Haverly theater, then located on Monroe street, where the Inter Ocean building now stands. This plant consisted of two dynamos with a capacity of 637 lamps. On the opening night only sufficient lights were started at first to enable the ushers to seat the audience. When the curtain rose every light was turned on, causing a tremendous sensation among the audience and eliciting applause that continued for fifteen minutes. The innovation was so successful that McVicker's theater and the Chicago Opera House immediately installed similar plants.—W. C. Jenkins in National Magazine.

A DENTAL CURIOSITY.

The Set of Artificial Teeth That Washed Indured.

It may not be generally known that the Father of His Country was one of the first Americans to wear artificial teeth. By the time the war of the Revolution had ended he had parted company with most of the outfit which nature had given him. An ingenious physician and dentist of New York city undertook the then unusual task of re-equipment and produced at length a full set of artificial teeth. These are now, of course, a dental curiosity and offer an additional proof of the heroism of our first president, for it is a matter of fact that General Washington wore those teeth for many years and, so far as we know, never complained of them.

The teeth were carved from ivory and riveted, wired and clamped to a somewhat ponderous gold plate. Three large clamps in particular figure conspicuously in the roof of the mouth and must have caused difficulty, if not anguish. There were an upper and an under set, and the two were connected and held in position relatively by a long spiral spring on each side, says Harper's Weekly.

Nevertheless Washington wore them long and well, a fact sufficiently attested by the worn and dented condition of both teeth and plate.

At the last account these teeth were the property of a dental institution in Baltimore.

Light on a Dark Subject.

Caller—There's one question I should like to have answered. When a thought flashes across the intellect does it effect any molecular changes in the cellular or muscular tissues composing the material substance of the cerebral mass, or does it operate merely in the realm of the spiritual ego, thereby leaving no trace subject to detection or classification in the domain of substantiality? Information Editor (turning again to his desk)—There is no premium on the coin.—Chicago Tribune.

Placed.

Mrs. B.—Is she a Mary of the vine clad cottage? Mrs. M.—No, a Martha of the rubber plant flat.—Harper's Bazar.

Thoughts never lack words. It is words that lack thoughts.—Subert.

Arrest of Joseph G. Robin.

Matthew McGrath, the New York policeman who shot George Walker, accusing him of burglary, is champion sixteen-pound hammer thrower of the world. Government agents may invade the private art galleries of J. Pierpont Morgan and confiscate art treasures. Captain Thomas Baldwin expects to fly around the world in about three years. The Northern Bank of New York and the Washington Savings bank closed their doors, and Joseph G. Robin, their controlling spirit, was arrested and took poison.

Uncommercial List.

Artistic folk frequently have somewhat vague notions about business. Some of them are quite ignorant of it, others utterly indifferent to it and others yet hate the very name of it. One in the last named category was Liszt. He had returned from a successful tour, and Princess Metternich, the wife of the celebrated statesman and diplomatist, was questioning him regarding the concerts he had been giving abroad.

"I hear," she said, "that you did good business in Paris."

To which Liszt gave the tart reply, "I only played some music there. Business—that I leave to bankers and diplomatists."

To another lady the musical cleric gave a still more sarcastic answer. "Ah, Abbe," she sighed, "what a great fortune you would make if only you could be induced to go to America to play!"

"Madame," returned Liszt, "if you stood in need of that fortune, believe me, I would go at once."

The Names of Moses.

Moses of Scriptural fame is called by eight different names in various places in the Bible. Bathia, the daughter of Pharaoh, called him Moses because she drew him out of the water. Jochebed, his mother, called him Jehuthiel, saying, "I had hoped for him." Miriam, his sister, called him Jared because she had descended after him into the water to see what his end would be. Aaron called his brother Abi Zanuch because his father had deserted their mother. Amram, the father of Moses, called the boy Chabar because he was again reunited to the mother of the lad. Kehath, the grandfather of Moses, called him Abigdor because God had repaired the breach in the house of Jacob. The nurse of the grandfather of Moses called him Abi Socho because he was once hidden three months in the Tabernacle. All Israel called him Shemaiah because "in his days God heard their cries and rescued them from their oppressors."

Dot and Trouseau.

Dealing with the weaknesses of actors, some noted for meanness, a Paris contemporary relates a good story of Frederick Lemaitre, the celebrated actor, who was somewhat parsimonious. When his daughter was about to marry, Lemaitre agreed to provide the "dot" and the troussau. "Dot," it may be observed, is the French equivalent for the English "dower" or Scottish "tocher."

When the notary came to complete the contract and was reading the terms Lemaitre said: "The daughter of Frederick Lemaitre has not need of a dot. M. Le Notaire, strike out the dot."

The prospective son-in-law was present, and he had the courage to reply: "The daughter of Frederick Lemaitre can easily clothe herself with the fame of her father. M. Le Notaire, pray strike out the troussau."

Counter Diplomacy.

"I think you will like this goods, madam," urged a salesman in a Euclid avenue shop. "It is just the thing for a stout, middle aged lady."

"Sir," squealed the customer in a rage. The clerk saw his faux pas and recovered himself quickly.

"Pardon me," he smiled, "I mistook you for the young lady who was in here yesterday looking for something for her grandmother. Now that I look at you again, I see that this was an older person. Now, if you are buying for yourself, we have something over here that"

—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Now, what is the name of the author?" she queried.

Small and Slangy Boy—Oh, You Ida.

The Joke on Her.

"I suppose being the wife of a humorist is a continuous joke," said her former schoolmate.

"Yes," she sadly sighed, looking at her faded and old fashioned gown, "and it's on me."—Exchange.

E. Fairfax Ludlow is assisting Capt. L. E. Ellenwood aboard his fleet of excursion boats and will probably continue with him during the season.

Munroe & Stevens, who own one of the largest citrus groves in this vicinity, are shipping three carloads of fruit per week to various points throughout the country.

The houseboat Stop-Awhile, which has been lying at the Central bridge draw since her arrival here, was towed to Root's Dry Dock this morning by the Dixie, to undergo some necessary repairs.

Capt. Geo. A. Rowe was a passenger aboard the Constitution this morning, bound for Rockledge, where he was to join J. H. Matthew's houseboat-launch, the Usona, and take her on to Palm Beach.

"It's always the unexpected which happens and it's the unexpected things you find in the Daily News.
 Therefore, if Miss Aldine Mersereau will call at the Daily News office we will give her two tickets to the Crystal Theater for tomorrow night.

B. L. Armstrong and family arrived
 Monday from New London, Conn., and are occupying their winter residence at the corner of Ridgewood and Magnolia avenues. Mr.
 Armstrong said that when they left
 New London good winter weather was prevailing.

The Eph Williams Troubadours
 Company gave a tent performance on the grounds west of the railroad freight depot yesterday afternoon and evening and their private cars were sidetracked near at hand. In the early afternoon their band gave a concert at the postoffice corner.

The cabin cruiser, Annel, Capt. S.
 S. Singleton, tied up at the Conrad dock this morning. The Annel is from New Smyrna, where her owner,
 E. Kieswetter, of Columbus, Ohio, spends the winter season. Mr. Kies-wetter, family and friends came up from New Smyrna on the Annel to spend the day in Daytona.

The steamer Constitution left the Prince George dock shortly after 8 o'clock this morning on her initial trip of the season to Palm Beach, carrying a goodly number of excusionists on this pleasant trip. The Constitution is officered by Capt.
 Lew Barber, who is also her pilot,
 Fred Sunderman as engineer and Roy Stewart as steward.

"Munroe & Stevens are now packing from their orange groves 3 cars of choice fruit per week. They have choice oranges and culls for sale locally, only $1.00 per box, or loose in crates. Telephone your orders to phone 127. Oranges are now sweet and of good eating quality; especially good for marmalade.

OFFER FROM W. J. MORGAN TO PROMOTE MEET HERE.

SPECIAL ATTRACTION OFFERED IS RACE BETWEEN AEROPLANE AND BRUCE-BROWN IN AN AU- TOMOBILE.

Apologizing to Daytona losing the big automobile race meet on the beach
 next spring, "Senator" Morgan immediately comes to bat with an offer to pull off a race on Daytona beach between Bruce-Brown in an automobile and an aeroplane.

Mr. Morgan has wired here that he has been authorized to offer the exclusive appearance of Nascarro at Daytona in an international championship race and that other noted drivers and aviators can be secured for a meet here which will make it the best attraction ever held in Florida.

The proposition has been turned over to the local race promoters for consideration.

CRUISING BOAT HALIFAX AT THE CONRAD DOCK.

The new cruising boat, Halifax,
 which has been lying at McDonald's Boat Yard since she was launched some time since, was brought up to the Conrad dock Sunday to receive some finishing touches and her furnishings.

The Halifax is owned by August Achstetter, of this city, who did much of the work upon her during the past summer, and will use her for charter cruising parties in these waters and among the Florida Keys, as she is built for use in the open sea and still is not of too much draft for these waters, as she will draw but three feet.

The Halifax is 48 feet in length by 13 feet beam and is fitted with a 20 horsepower DeMooy engine.
 She has accommodations for eight persons, including a crew of two,
 and has all the conveniences of a modern cruising boat. Her main cabin is roomy and comfortable and is handsomely finished in oak and Spanish cedar. There is also a roomy after deck, protected from the weather by an awning, in addition to the large expanse of main deck. In fact the Halifax is a well built, fine appearing craft and should prove a very comfortable boat for the purpose intended, while her owner and captain is an experienced boatman.

INVITATION TO AGENTS
 TO SEE CITY.
ASK DELEGATES TO STOP
 ON WAY BACK TO NORTH.

SECRETARY OF HOTEL MEN'S AS- SOCIATION OF DAYTONA WIRES INVITATION TO RAIL- WAY MEN IN CUBA.

If efforts being made by the Hotel Men's Association of Daytona are successful this city will have as its guests one day this week about 100 railway agents from all sections of the United States, Canada and Mexico.

The National Association of Railway Agents has been holding its annual convention in Tampa during the past week, the sessions of the convention closing last Saturday and since that time the delegates have been traveling through the south.

The sight-seeing trip of the railway agents includes a journey to Cuba from the West Coast and along the East Coast of Florida on the return to the north, stopping at some of the winter resorts.

Arrangements have already been made to entertain the agents at Miami on the return trip and the delegates will also stop off for a day sight-seeing in St. Augustine. By authority of the Hotel Men's Association, action taken at the meeting
 Monday evening, Secretary L. M.
 Waite has wired to the railway men an invitation to stop over for one day or any part of that time they feel they can spare, to be entertained by the hotel men of Daytona.

It is probable the railway men will feel unable to spend a whole day here, but arrangements may be made to stop over between trains for lunch and an auto ride about the city.

The preparations for having a telephone placed in the F. E. C. depot here have been practically completed by the association and the connection with the local exchange will be made in a short time. A special operator will be on duty at the depot to answer all calls and questions, but the telephone in the station will not be for use of the public in calling from that end.

STOCKS ARE HIGHER SOME THREE POINTS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Stocks this morning were strong and active.
 Standard and railroad stocks went from fractions to three points higher.
 Norfolk & Western went 1½ up,
 while Steel and Copper were strong.

OPERATION PERFORMED ON MAYOR OF TOLEDO.

TOLEDO, Jan. 17.—Bland Whitlock, mayor of Toledo, was operated upon for appendicitis last night. He has been resting comfortably today and physicians say he will be up in a month.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce my candidacy
 for re-election to the office of City Collector. Being a tax payer of the city for many years and your collector for one year my record is before you. Respectfully, 39-40-w tf W. H. EDMONDSON.

B. F. Hough drove down to his orange grove property on Turnbull bay Sunday, returning to Daytona by train Monday afternoon. Mr.
 Hough says he still has several hundred boxes of fruit to ship.

James E. Kilfoyle, of Macon, Ga., arrived from Jacksonville Saturday to accept a position in Hankins' drug store. Mr. Kilfoyle takes the place at the soda fountain previously filled by Robert Payne, who left for Jacksonville today.

Dr. Stephen H. Rhoades, of Shrewsbury township, Monmouth county, N. J., has purchased through the Edmondson & Donnelly agency Capt. W. W. Smith's cottage on Second avenue. Doctor and Mrs.
 Rhoades are now at Hawks Park,
 but will take possession of the property in about two weeks from this time. Capt. and Mrs. Smith will remain here until spring as usual, but will board for the balance of the season.
